Weissman Graduate Career Services
Fall 2020 Calendar

The Class of 2022 Academic Year-Long Mentoring Program is open to all first and second year graduate students.

EOC's Academic Year-Long Mentoring Program is a professional partnership* between Baruch students and their EOC Mentors. The Program is a commitment: the Mentor and Mentee must meet face-to-face (virtually) at least once per month and maintain regular contact via email or telephone. The program helps students define and achieve their career goals by providing executive Mentors (some are Baruch alumni) who volunteer their time to support, counsel, and serve as role models for Mentees. Mentees in the program are current Baruch students who have a serious desire to develop themselves professionally and personally. *It is not the goal of the program, nor is it expected of Mentors to provide their Mentees with an internship or a job, and Mentees in the program may not ask their Mentors for an internship or a job.

Before you apply, be sure to familiarize yourself with the requirements and expectations by reviewing our Program FAQs.

Please click HERE to complete the Academic Year-Long Mentoring Program application by September 2, 2020. Due to the competitive nature of the Program, applicants are encouraged to apply early.
